Connections

Who we are

Hopelink is a social services nonprofit agency founded in 1971 to support all members of our community. We help people navigate financial hardship and build a path towards stability by providing them with tools, resources, and education. For more information visit: hopelink.org

What we do

We serve our neighbors who are experiencing homelessness and financial insecurity, as well as children, seniors, and people with disabilities who are residents of north and east King County by providing them with tools and resources to gain and maintain financial stability. We also offer transportation services in King and Snohomish counties.

How we do it

We provide critical social services through nine programs, including housing and transportation, case management, energy and food assistance, employment and financial coaching, adult education, financial assistance, and an extensive referral network. Some of our programs have eligibility requirements based on Area Median Income Guidelines (AMI) and Federal Poverty Guidelines (FPL) indicators.
