

Since 1971, Hopelink has provided stability-building programs for people experiencing poverty, community members who are immigrants and refugees, and people with disabilities in north and east King County. The agency’s nine programs work in tandem to fill gaps, supporting each family or individual’s unique needs. These include housing, food assistance, financial assistance, adult education, energy assistance, financial capabilities, family development, and transportation.

What is Lend a Hoping Hand?

The magic of the winter season brings joy through cherished traditions and celebration with loved ones. But this joy is put at risk when too many of our neighbors struggle to meet their basic needs. You can partner with Hopelink to Lend a Hoping Hand to those in need, ensuring that no one goes without joy this winter.
